CONTEXT:

Established in 1951, IOM is a Related Organization of the United Nations, and as the leading UN agency in the field of migration and works closely with governmental, intergovernmental, and non-governmental partners. IOM is dedicated to promoting humane and orderly migration for the benefit of all. It does so by providing services and advice to governments and migrants.

Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (SEA) by aid workers is a grave violation of human rights and IOM is committed to combat any kind of SEA by its staff, related personnel, and partners.

IOM's zero tolerance policy also extends to IOM third party contracted staff, suppliers, service providers and implementing partners. With over 16,000 staff and over 6,000 related personnel, operating in 450 Offices, and 165 countries throughout the world, the impact of sexual exploitation and abuse on victims and within IOM's operating environments, and the reputational risk it poses for the Organization needs to be addressed and remains a key priority.

The prevention of and response to Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA) continues to gain momentum not only within the United Nations (UN) and Interagency Standing Committee (IASC) common systems but also amongst governments, institutional partners, media, and the public. Increased action is no longer a choice but a necessity, and the rights of the victim must be at the forefront.

Over the past decade, IOM has increasingly been seen as a strong player supporting the prevention and response to Sexual Exploitation and Abuse and Sexual Harassment within the UN, IASC, and amongst the humanitarian community. While significant progress has been made to prevent and respond to SEA within the Organization such as through the development of innovative PSEA trainings, the development of a misconduct platform to report SEA, and extensive interagency collaboration on PSEA, more needs to be done within country and at the programmatic level and the role of the PSEA Officer will support these efforts.

In 2021, IOM developed its strategic approach toward the prevention of and response to sexual exploitation and abuse and sexual harassment focusing on five priority areas: 1) Leadership and Organizational Culture; 2) Institutional Accountability and Transparency; 3) Capacity-Development, Training, and Communication; 4) Quality and Accessible Victim Assistance; 5) Partnership and Coordination.

In line with the IOM PSEAH Strategy, IOM will be implementing a dedicated project aimed at reducing the risk of sexual exploitation and abuse (SEA) within crisis-affected communities. The PSEA Project Officer will be contributing to a dedicated Pilot Project in Mozambique and the Philippines to strengthen the sector's collective SEA risk management approach, contributing to effective PSEA programming, thereby reducing threats, and strengthening prevention strategies within humanitarian and development programming. The project aims at mainstreaming PSEA prevention action in all programming as a cross cutting issue, in an informed manner by understanding and addressing SEA risks – both within the country context and amongst organizations that support implementation. The Project's aim to identify SEA risk will also lead the prioritization of limited financial resources toward collective PSEA gaps in high-risk contexts and ensure that PSEA is better mainstreamed within programming.

Under the overall supervision of the Head of Emergency Response and Recovery Unit and under direct supervision of the Project Manager (PSEA Risk Management), and in close coordination with the PSEA Networks in Mozambique, the incumbent will be responsible for implementing Project "Risk Management: Sustainable Models and Best Practices for Effective PSEA Response in Mozambique and Philippines". The PSEA Officer will be supporting the implementation of the project in Mozambique.

RESPONSIBILITIES AND ACCOUNTABILITIES

1. Support implementation of the overall project's implementation with a focus on Risk Management and PSEA in a timely manner, in line with IOM's policies and procedures, as well as donor requirements.
2. Provide inputs to the development of common SEA risk management approaches and solutions, ensuring strong partnerships with UN agencies, NGO partners, government authorities, communities, and other key stakeholders are in place, including but not limited to: 1) support and monitor the SEA risk mitigation actions as identified by the inter-agency SEA risk assessment; 2) support the inter-agency PSEA Network in integrating SEA risk mitigation actions in the PSEA Network Action Plan; and 3) support Cluster/Sectors in integrating the SEA risk mitigation measures in the Humanitarian Response Plan (HRP), United Nations Sustainable Development Cooperation Frameworks (UNSDCF), and Cluster/Sector Work Plans.
3. Support the external impact evaluation and global revision process of the SEA Risk Management Approach by reporting on effectiveness and country-level progress, and support refining the methodology based on the external impact evaluation.
4. Keep track of project progress, specifically aimed at increasing effectiveness, and take appropriate action to ensure timely implementation and achievements of program outputs and objectives.
5. Support preparing progress and other reports and ensure proper information exchange on all operational aspects of the project between IOM, the donor and other stakeholders.
6. Participate in the documentation and evaluation of processes and lessons learned from the field, as well as support the development of appropriate communication and guidance throughout the project.
7. As a result of SEA risks identified and PSEA collective needs, provide inputs to proposals to support government and community needs, in line with donors' priorities and IOM's Mandate and Strategy, including fundraising efforts.
8. Support the piloting of the SEA risk management and PSEA mainstreaming during planning, policy development and programming of the program, and actively participate in the sector and interagency coordination structures.
9. Support and undertake verification and monitoring site visits and duty travel as required relating to project coordination, contacts with counterparts, problem solving, and adaptation of activities to the different operational contexts as required.
10. Undertake duty travel as required.

11. Perform such other duties as may be assigned.
