Context:

The International Organization for Migration (IOM), the UN Migration Agency is a dynamic and growing inter-governmental organization, with 172 member states. IOM is committed to the principle that “humane and orderly migration benefits migrants and society”. Established in 1951 and now active in over 440 field locations worldwide, IOM works with partners, government and civil society to promote international cooperation to address operational challenges of migration and mobility, assist in the search for practical solutions to migration problems, and to provide humanitarian assistance to migrants in need, including refugees and internally displaced people. IOM addresses the migratory phenomenon from an integral and holistic perspective, including links to development, in order to maximize its benefits and minimize its negative effects.

IOM has been supporting the provincial and district health authorities to provide essential humanitarian health services since cyclone Idai and Kenneth hit the country in 2019, as part of IOM's response to disaster-affected populations.

IOM's health programming is also closely integrated with MHPSS (Mental health and psychosocial support) services, as well as protection and CCCM (camp coordination and camp management) interventions that aim to strengthen the resilience of disaster affected populations in the provinces of Sofala and Cabo Delgado.

IOM's interventions have included to date emergency health services, through mobile clinics and the provision of assisted referral services, support to restore logistics' capacity of district health services to provide mobile brigade integrated services, training of TBAs, as well as tracing of loss-to-follow up patients with chronic diseases and linking them back to care.

IOM has also been supporting the COVID19 preparedness and response through support to risk communication and community engagement across communities affected by displacement and/or resettlement.

Under the overall supervision of the Migration Health Programme Manager, and direct supervision by the National Project Officer (Migration Health) in close coordination with Head of Sub-Office, the incumbent will be responsible for supporting the implementation of the IOM migration health (including COVID19) projects at IOM Pemba.

Responsibilities and Accountabilities:

1. Provide support to organize and implement IOM's migration health portfolio (HIV/TB, COVID-19 response, and emergency health activities) in Cabo Delgado.
2. Assist in the coordination and liaison with district health authorities, as well as humanitarian and development partners, including participation in local meetings, documenting meeting and following-up on outcomes.

3. Assist in the follow-up, access to care and referral of patients identified through the displacement cycle ensuring they are not lost to care but rather are linked to care at each step of the cycle.
4. Work with the integrated health-MHPSS-protection field teams in implementing activities including health education, community engagement, identification of lost-to-follow-up and other vulnerable patients, active case finding and screening, and referrals.
5. Organize integrated mobile brigades in coordination with district health authorities to deliver primary health care services to displaced populations and host communities, and as needed, support medical consultations, liaison with health authorities and proper escorts.
6. Provide supervision of team leaders from integrated field teams and ensure regular monitoring and reporting of community-based activities and primary health care service delivery; including follow up with team leaders on weekly community-based reports and preparing reports on service delivery by integrated mobile brigades, for updating of health programme databases.
7. Work closely with MHPSS, Protection and CCCM teams towards the delivery of integrated services to beneficiaries and cross-referrals.
8. Assist with administrative, logistic and finance tasks to facilitate proper running of all the activities.
9. Perform other duties as may be assigned.
